

MEXICANS ARE ANGRY AT REBELS

They Have Been Stripped of Provisions, and Valuables Stolen.

At General Huerta's Federal Headquarters, Santa Rosalia, Mexico, June 13.—Indignant at the devastation of the rebels on their northward retreat, residents of this district have become bitter against the revolutionists, and as a consequence General Huerta could have thousands of recruits for the asking. This section has been stripped of provisions, horses and staples which isolated farmers had provided for themselves with difficulty.

At Conchos, two stations north of here, on the Mexican Central, the rebels have just taken thirty-six tons of high-grade silver ore, valued at about $30,000, and three tons of medium-grade silver metal.

The silver was owned by the Nacsa Mining Company and the rebels are reported by Federal scouts to have gone to Chihuahua en route to Juarez to convert their booty into coin.

That the Mexican people are rapidly tiring of revolution was indicated today by the arrival of advices from Juarez, El Oro and other cities in the State of Chihuahua, making overtures to General Huerta for peace. They ask only guarantees of safety in case of surrender. General Huerta has granted these guarantees to all who surrender unconditionally.

Makes Thrilling Dash.
Homer A. Scott, an El Paso photographer, arrived here yesterday, after a thrilling dash from the rebel lines to the Federal camp. Scott has been isolated for six weeks with the rebel columns under Generals Campa and Arguedo, in the Torreón district, and a few days ago returned to Chihuahua only to learn that Jimenez, where he had left many films while the town was under Orozco's control, had now become a Federal town.

Anxious to recover his pictures, he ran the gauntlet of pickets on the Federal front. General Huerta has not made a prisoner of Scott, but decided to hold him here for some time, as he fears that the rebels may get hold of him again and force him to describe the Federal equipment.

Reports Federal Victory.

Washington, June 13.—The United States consul at Durango has reported to the State Department another Federal victory in Mexico. He says 1,000 revolutionists under General Arguedo, who had raided San Miguel de Mosquituit toward the end of May, were completely routed by the Federal forces under General Blanquet at Purima, in the eastern part of the State of Durango, near the Zacatecas line.

The consul further reports that the situation is otherwise quiet, and that railroad service is regular.

CHICKENS FLEE TO CANADA.

Their Purloiner Also Steps Across Line, but Is Sentenced.

Malone, N. Y., June 13.—Two chickens flew to the north end of a room occupied by a justice court yesterday and made haste to the justice and his constabulary minions. Then a man in a blue shirt and American jacket, in a dilemma as an "international episode" being imminent.

The court room is one-half in the United States and one-half in Canada, and the prisoner, for himself and the chickens, claimed that they were outside the jurisdiction of the justice.

A young Malone attorney, who represented the people in the case, was summoning all his coax and cunning, feathered and unfeathered bipeds back under the Stars and Stripes when the former, unlettered in the law of jurisdiction, tackled their way across the line, followed by the defendant, who tried to shoo the chickens over into Canada again. He was unsuccessful because he was grabbed and held to the bar on the American side until found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

ANCIENT FEUD AT END.

A McCoy indorses Dr. Hatfield's Candidacy for Governor.

Blacksburg, W. Va., June 13.—That the Hatfield-McCoy feud, one of the oldest and bloodiest in the history of the West Virginia-Kentucky border, has ended for all time was indicated today when Dr. H. J. Hatfield, cousin of "Doc" Anse Hatfield, leader of the Hatfield clan, received a telegram from A. J. McCoy, leader of the McCoy faction, indorsing his candidacy for Governor of West Virginia. The telegram was dated at Princeton, W. Va., and read:

"Greetings to Dr. Hatfield from a

One Man Killed in Boston Fire.
Boston, June 13.—One man was killed and damage estimated at $50,000 was caused by a fire that broke out in a Portland Street paint and varnish shop early today. Hubert Johnson, colored, a hotel porter, fell from a nearby building and was killed. Three hotels in the vicinity of the blaze were threatened. Explosions of chemicals made the fire dangerous to night.

Some Minor Arrests.
John Robertson, colored, and Sadie Harris, also colored, were arrested yesterday on the charge of beating Nora Brown. The Brown woman was taken into custody a few minutes later on a cross-warrant which charged her with assaulting Sadie Harris. Frank Crawford was arrested on complaint of his wife, who charged him with drunkenness and abusing her. He was recently sent to jail on a similar charge, but was released in a few days at the request of his wife and mother.

Joe Harris, colored, was locked up in the First Station last night, charged with stealing a bulldog from W. O. Enis.

BOY CRITICALLY BURNED.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Cape Charles, Va., June 13.—Charles Hastings, the ten-year-old son of Wm. Hastings, is in the hospital at Salisbury critically burned as the result of a prank played early this afternoon by his companion, a boy of fifteen years named "Niblett." Young Hastings regained consciousness long enough to tell his story, which was as follows: Niblett asked me to go boat riding with him, and when we got in the boat, he poured coal oil all over me and gave me a match and told me to burn it off my clothes. I would not do it, so he lighted a match and threw it on me, and the flames shot up over my head. Some man jumped into the boat and threw me into the river. That's all I know until I got here."

Physicians say he is mortally burned and can live but a short time. Young Niblett is missing from town and is sought by the police.

News of South Richmond

(Phone Madison 175.)
Mrs. E. Howlett Trainum's music classes closed last night with a musical at the Porter street Presbyterian Sunday school rooms. The rooms were beautifully decorated, and a program of very high order was well executed.

The beginner class deserved notice for the work accomplished during the session. At the close of the program, Rev. F. Ernest Warren delivered medals for improvement and punctuality to Misses Josephine Wrenn and Muriel Sanders and John Welford Fix.

Children Engage for Play.
Anticipating the opening of the public playground, crowds of small children thronged the Powhatan school yard and got what amusement they could from the apparatus erected yesterday, preparatory to the opening Monday.

The Southside is fortunate in securing one playground, but it is wholly inadequate to meet the demands of the centrally located, but is even then, too far for many of the children. The Southside has very few suitable places for playing, other than the streets, and an effort will be made to have all of the churches throw open their lawns to the public during the summer months. This with the park will afford a breathing place for many who are unable to leave the city.

Draws Heavy Fine.

Ernest Vaden charged with disorderly conduct, was yesterday afternoon in the Forest Hill Court, fined $15 and costs and put under $250 bond for good behavior for twelve months. The bond also carries the stipulation that Vaden shall not enter the park for that period of time.

Magistrate Jacobs was assisted in an advisory capacity by Magistrate Chatham, of Oak Grove, while Commonwealth Attorney Hastings conducted the prosecution. It was proved that a gang of men have since the opening of the park been molesting many couples. While the officers failed to prove Vaden a member of the gang, his actions in a specific instance were sufficient grounds in the minds of the court for a conviction on the charge preferred. A fine of $30 was imposed, but upon application of Attorney J. C. Gurnea, representing the accused, it was split in half and the bond arranged.

Depositors Lose.

Norfolk, Va., June 13.—By the decision of the Supreme Court at Wytheville to-day, the depositors of two failed banks, the Tidewater and Bankers, at Norfolk, and the Bank of Mechanics, at Boydton, Va., lost in actions brought against directors of the defunct institutions for alleged neglect of duty. In both cases depositors had sued the directors on their own account. The court held that suit should have been brought by trustees and receivers, respectively, for the benefit of the trusts, and that depositors had no right to sue personally until they had applied in court to have the trustees and receivers sue and the latter had declined so to do. In the case of the Tidewater failure was said to-day that the statute of limitations would prevent any new suit.

It is safe to say that she is one of the 10,000 "knights and ladies of the typed keys" who have rebelled against the method of reprinting frequently practiced by employers, and have adopted the efficient method offered by The Times-Dispatch of ending it.

"Insurance against ridicule" and "Job insurance" now have been combined with "Insurance against reprinting" and all three of these new policies of progress have been connected with the Peerless Error Eliminator which is being distributed.

If you do not understand what all this is about, read the coupon printed upon another page; or, better still, get that set of books you have seen advertised, which is known as Everybody's Cyclopaedia.

In the Good Old Summer Time

You Want

Stories that entertain and thrill; that stimulate the imagination; fresh and invigorating; that carry you far afield, away from the discomforts that hot weather often brings.

The Illustrated Sunday Magazine

of the Next Issue of

is just the kind of a magazine you need for complete enjoyment of a June Sunday.

First there is a story of mental suggestion by J. W. Muller, called "Night's Open Door"—a story that leaves all beaten paths—a story that you will want to read a second time.

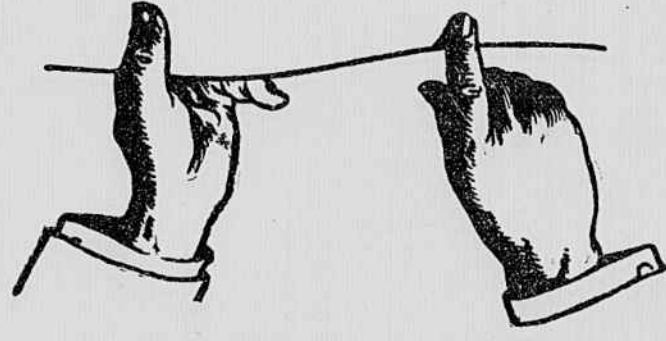

Then there is that chronicle of the most unusual adventure of the Unusual Adventure Club. This story is by Hugh Pendexter, and it is called "The Man With the Ace of Hearts." It's original.

Mystic, exciting, rapidly approaching the great climax, Mrs. C. N. Williamson's story, "If the Sea Could Tell," reaches a most interesting chapter in next Sunday's instalment. A complete synopsis will enable you to begin it, if you have not already done so.

March, to act as administrator of the $37,000,000 estate was granted.

In receiving this appointment by the court Miss Arbuckle triumphed over the public administrator, whose application was made at about the same time that his office administered the estate.

Had the petition of the public administrator been granted the statutory fees, amounting to about $375,000, would have been turned into the city treasury.

These fees will now go to the Arbuckle family, the immediate relatives being Miss Arbuckle's sister, Mrs. Catherine Jamison, of Pittsburgh, and her son, William A. Jamison, who, by the death of his uncle, becomes the active head of the Arbuckle firm.

Miss Arbuckle, who is seventy-two years old, was closely in touch with her brother's affairs during his life, and it is believed by the few close friends who know her well that she will carry on the many philanthropies in which Mr. Arbuckle was so deeply interested.

In spite of the enormous wealth, Miss Arbuckle, who came to make her home with her brother after his wife's death, never flaunted signs of being the possessor of millions. She will continue both her own and her brother's interest in the work of Henry

Ward Beecher's former pastorate, Plymouth Church.
